

SATURDAY EVENING, OCT. 1, 1898.

It is semi-officially announced tha the War Department, which does, of course, exactly what the President desires, has decided to leave to Governor Holcolmbe to decide whether the regiment from Nebraska, commanded by Mr. Wm. J. Bryan, shall be mustered out or not. There is a spurious statement made that as this regiment of Mr. Bryan's was the last regiment to be organized, it would be the policy of the "department" in mustering out troops to select those which had been the longest in service, and that this rule for mustering out would lead to taking the 1st Nebraska regiment now in Manila. So much for the "department," or Presidential statement. Now, for a little unvarnished truth. There was very little difference in time in the raising of the three Nebraska regiments, and not one was sent to Cuba to fight. There would be no object in bringing home a regiment sent at large expense to Ma nils, a distance of 8,000 or 10,000 miles, unless that object should be to benefit some pet government contractor or to accomplish by indirection a political trick at once vulgar and ineffective. The idea of the War Department-that is to say, the President-having a fixed and impartial rule of public policy in respect of mustering in or mustering out of troops, appointments, assignments and the like is an insult to the public intelligence. The verdict of all unbought men is that there never has been an ad ministration with which "pulls" were so necessary and public patronage so completely controlled by personal or political favors. The patronage of the government in this war, small in time but profligate in expenditure, has gone to benefit republicans or "gold demo crats" who in 1896 by their apostasy helped Mr. Hanna to put Mr. McKinley in office Verily they have their reward. When they bolted they expected a reward, of course. The quota of Nethe Navy Department to-day. There brasks is largely in excess. The war was a larger numbers of bidders than braska is largely in excess. The war is over. Spain is conquered, submissive, abject and helpless. There is no pretext now for keeping up a volunteer army unless it be to dominate by the Union Iron Works, the Newport arms conquered provinces and hostile | ; populations. Not half, but nearly all the volunteers ought to be disbanded. The war taxes should be abated and son received a long communica-swept away. The President well tion from a writer on a New knows that Col. Bryan's regiment was raised by him, not to perform police terviews concerning Camp Wikoff apduty in Cuba, but to fight and uphold p aring in the paper from July 14 to bryotic State, according to plans reachthe honor of the country in battle. The war being over, it would be a natural and graceful thing for the President to muster out the regiment commanded by the gentleman who was his oppon ent in the last Presidential election, receiving six and a half million of votes and who, but for the arts of corruption and the intimidation of working men. would now be filling the Presidential chair. If the President had the proper feeling, which could rise above petty jobbery to the higher atmosphere of a great administrative trust, he would direct this regiment to be mustered out of service at once. There are a number of people who believe that the same spirit of party which led to the appointment of so many unfit persons for the Spanish war is animating the administration in | that therefore no more of them than this matter and that there is some game of trickery to hold on to this regiment in order to fetter and restrain the political utterances of the eloquent orator who commands it. Probably, at this hour, it would not be pleasant for Mr. McKinley to have Mr. Bryan speak out freely on political questions. However Mr. Bryan might avoid personalities or imputations of bad motives, his utterances would neces_ sarily bear hardly on an administration born in sin and controlled systematically by the favors of money, favoritism and corruption. A portrayal of the needless and wholesale suffering of the American soldiers at home and abroad would carry more weight than abundant whitewashing reports from hired and packed commissions of investigation. If the administration thinks to score a point by muzzling the great leader of the democratic hosts, and to take advantage of the patriotic offer of himself and his men to serve the country in actual war, so as to accomplish its maneuvre, it is sadly mistaken. The silence of Bryan would be more potent by far than the venal praise of the November. Many well known Vir-President's favorites. The Algerines ginians called upon him while he was President's favorites. The Algerines may be crafty, but the people understand them very well. The time has gone by when they could perpetrate the investigating commission. foulest deeds and stifle all comment by the cry of "patriotism" and "standing Douglass, John Brown's right hand by the country in time of war." NOTWITHSTANDING THE glaring evidences of general business depression everywhere apparent, this week's trade reviews continue to prate of alleged revival of industry in all sections of the country, and of increased and increasing profitable business. But it must not be forgotten that the reviews referred to are published for a specific object and are supported for that purpose.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette. WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.

Felipe Agoncillo, the delegate from the Philippines, Sixto Lopez, his inter-preter, and Major-General Greene isited the White House this morning. They were in conference with the President for nearly an hour. Their recep-tion was not official. Agoncillo was admitted just as would be any individual who had information of interest to offer to the President, Interpreter Lopez speaks English correctly but not at all luently. So it was that the presentation of Agoncillo's argument proceeded very slowly. It was in effect that the Filipinos want the removal of Spanish authority from the archipelago. Their second desire is for independence with American protection from outside in-States. But the first great object is to have the Spanish officials sent home. President McKinley listened to all Agoncillo had to say and asked questions to bring out more lights, but he gave no assurances as to the course that will be followed by this govern-

THE FIREME N'S CONTESTS. The last days' programme of the twelfth annual convention of the Virginia State Volunteer Firemen's Association at Newport News yesterday, consisted of reel contests and the award of prizes to the successful competitors. TheLexington fire department team carried off the honors of the day, winning all three of the reel contests. in this team will take away with them $325 and a fireman's silver trumpet. The reel contests for association teams only, was started at noon. The first prize was $50 and the second $25. The track was 225 yards and the race was run on West avenue, between Twentyfifth and Thirtieth streets. Each team competing was required to start on a given signal, pull the hose cart to the olug and make connection and then break the hose at 225 yards and attach the nozzle. Suffolk was the first to ruo, and cleared the course in 1.13. Roanoke followed, and the team attached the nozzle in 57 seconds. Lexington ran last and accomplished the fest in forty-seven seconds. This company ran in athletic ccs:ume and sprinting shoes. The Roanoke firemen contended they should be required to run in firemen's uniforms but the judges decided to allow the entry. The next event was a reel contest, open to the world, for a prize of $25 and a silver trumpet. The Roanoke and Suffolk eams refused to run, and Lexington went in on the condition that it would receive the prizes if it should beat its own time of the previous contest. This the Lexington boys did, making the
